200 RANGE HORSES FOR THE ENGLISH MARKETS.

Mr. Gordon Cumming, of Calgary, arrived in Winnipeg, August 4th, with 200 head of fine range horses, many of them halfbred, some quarterbred, and all of a stamp likely to command a good figure in the English markets, for which they are destined. Mr. Gordon Cumming is taking them to Bottswell, near London, Ontario, where they will be thoroughly broken and put in condition for shipment; he expects that for cavalry remounts the best of the bunch should fetch as good price as $500 a head. This is the first shipment of Messrs. Cumming and Ffolkes' new venture.

A Chinaman, who was liberated from quarantine, in Calgary, with the balance of his countrymen, was found in the vicinity of Gleichen the other day by the mounted police in a starving condition. He left town late on Tuesday night, evidently having been badly frightened by the action of the mob, and though he had money on his person, could neither buy nor beg a mouthful to eat from the settlers along the railway, who would not allow him to approach their premises. He was brought to the barracks at Calgary, where his wants were attended to and where he now is. The report that he is suffering from small-pox is untrue.

The Cowes yacht race on August 2nd was little better than a farce, every effort was made to allow the Emperor William Meteor to win. The Iverna, which has frequently proved her superiority in contest with the Meteor, withdrew from the race. The L'Esperance, the next fleetest of the lot was run ashore in a harmless spot, a pure accident of course. In spite of everything the imperial yacht failed to get sufficient lead over her lagging rivals to overcome the time allowance and get the prize.

All persons are liberated from Calgary quarantine except Mrs. Belmar, Mr. Halliday and family.

GENERAL NEWS.

Prairie fires are burning near Saskatoon.

Rev. Mr. Small, Presbyterian minister at Gretna, is afflicted with small-pox. He caught the disease while visiting some Chinamen there.

There was $4,995,000 worth of insurance on the buildings destroyed by the fire at St. John, Newfoundland, recently. The total loss is placed at $15,000,000.

The crops at Regina and Moose Jaw are pronounced well, but are in reality backward and suffering for want of rain. A hot wind on Monday last did a good deal of damage to grain on light land.

Toronto World: The small-pox scarcely claims recognition now in the ordinary street conversation, in Victoria, B. C. It has run its course, and people have become tired of it as they do of everything else, and want something fresh to discuss. There have been no startling developments and the patients are nearly all convalescent.

The beet root sugar industry in Quebec province, says a Montreal paper, has received a bad blow by the failure of the West Farnham Beet Sugar Company with liabilities of some $60,000 and assets of only $9,000. The company was composed of a syndicate of wealthy French capitalists. Among them was Baron Dessellier. The factory was started in 1889. The cause of the failure is attributed to the fact that since Dessellier's marriage to a wealthy New York lady and his subsequent removal to Paris, where he now resides, he has taken little interest in the concern. It is learned that French capitalists interested in the venture are not responsible for any of the liabilities. They were not incorporated in Canada, and only Alfred Musey, who has been managing director of the factory, and Dessellier can be held responsible to the creditors.

Free Press: There are evidently some friends of North Dakota in Winnipeg, who are trying hard to locate a case of small-pox and almost every day, and sometimes twice a day. Dr. Phillips, city health officer, puts on his hat in response to an urgent request and starts out to find that another case located is probably measles, chicken-pox, or very often a case of vaccination. A person sees the vaccination on another and immediately assumes, without inquiry, that he has at last found a true case and the result is a rapid drive for Dr. Phillips to the place indicated. Yesterday, while a Free Press reporter was in the city physician's office, a call came that there was a "sure case of small-pox" in a house just in rear of the Clifton Hotel. Dr. Phillips, accompanied by the scribe, immediately started out on the hunt. The building was located at once and on knocking, the door was opened by a Jewess, who speaks exceedingly poor English. She was questioned by the doctor and admitted that there was a sick man in the house who had marks all over his face and hands. At this juncture the reporter took a rapid departure and stationed himself on the opposite side of the street to await developments. It, however, turned out, as in every case yet reported in the city, to be a false alarm. The man was sick and had peculiar looking marks on his face and hands, but it was from poison ivy and not from small-pox, and the immediate neighborhood of where the man lives is once more resting in a tranquil state.

As a rule it is useless to say anything about prices in an advertisement as each claims to sell cheaper than his neighbor and such statements are usually taken for what they are worth. But as regards any of the above lines I intend to excel for this season any way, and a comparison of goods and prices will certainly convince the most skeptical that there has been a revolution in prices.

DELEGATES.

The following is an extract from the official report given by the delegates from Nebraska, which appears in the Free Press, August 2nd:

To this section of the country they gave their special attention and were enabled, by the kindness of the mayor and corporation of Edmonton, and afterwards of Major Griesbach, commanding the mounted police at Fort Saskatchewan, who furnished teams for their conveyance, to see a very large portion of the country.

The first day they were driven through the Sturgeon river country, visiting the farms of Messrs. Craig, George Sutherland and Whalen, where the growing crops gave ample evidence of the grain raising qualities of the soil. On the second day, leaving Edmonton early in the morning, the delegates proceeded via Sand lake, across Stony Plains, returning by the north side of Big lake and St. Albert to Edmonton. The land in the Stony Plains district is unsurpassed in any country for richness of soil, and the delegation was astonished at the luxuriant growth there of the pea vine and wild vetch, as well as all kinds of wild fruit. Mention must be made here of a vast hay marsh, five miles in length and averaging about half a mile in breadth, which stretches along both sides of Dog Creek on the west end of Big lake, and will cut this year at least three tons to the acre of the very finest hay. Next morning the delegates left Edmonton in wagons, provided by Major Griesbach, of the N. W. Mounted police, and drove through Fort Saskatchewan along the old Victoria trail, about eighteen miles east of the fort, where they camped for the night. After examining the sections in the vicinity next day they drove to the northwest corner of Beaver lake, returning next morning to Fort Saskatchewan, thirteen quarter sections of government land being taken up by them in the neighbourhood of Two Creeks and the Springs, about two miles south of the old Victoria trail. In addition members of this delegation have bought a section and a half of land north of the Sturgeon river, and are taking up and purchasing four sections or more near Olds. Those who did not take up or purchase land, only two in number, were sent out as representatives of thirty families in northern and western Nebraska, and are making arrangements to return with these immigrants to the Edmonton district early next spring. In the opinion of these delegates the outlook for the farmer settling in the Edmonton district is a very bright one. Taking into consideration the natural resources of the country, its wonderful rich soil, fine climate, wood, water, coal and other minerals, and the fact that before long other railroads will bring it still nearer to market, the future of this district is absolutely assured, and the settler who comes in now is the one who will reap to its fullest extent the benefit of the development of this grand country.

The country along the line from Maple Creek west to Calgary is much dryer than usual, and a large portion of it is burned by prairie fires. East of Maple Creek the grass is not quite so dry, but some prairie fires have been there also.

An Englishwoman was recently fined for permitting her two dogs to draw her baby carriage on the streets of London.

FORT MACLEOD LETTER.

The following letter has been sent to the Manitoba Free Press, Regina Leader and Calgary Herald signed by all the leading residents of McLeod:

FORT MACLEOD, 27th July, 1892.

We, the undersigned, who are all property holders and business men in the present town of Fort Macleod, desire that our views regarding the removing to new townsite, recently laid out on the north side of the Old Man's river, and about three miles from the present townsite, as laid out by the company, known as the C. & E. railroad company., be generally known and circulated. It has been widely stated and advertised in the east, that those at present living and doing business in the town of Fort Macleod are desirous of moving, as the present site is not a desirable one. We wish most emphatically to contradict this most erroneous statement and to have it generally known on what grounds we originally located in the town of Fort Macleod, and also the great injustice it is to all of us, that a new town is located in our close vicinity, we being as much as told that unless we move, at a sacrifice of our many years investments, we shall be barred out, and a new town started in spite of us. On July the 9th, 1884, the lots of the present government site of Fort Macleod were put up at auction by the government auctioneer, J. H. Metcalf. This is one of the few government townsites ever put on the market, and probably the only one in the Northwest Territories. Many lots were purchased ranging in price from $25 to $40 for corner lots. These have, of course, changed hands many times, and lots in the last six years have sold as high as $600. We have all made our homes here, built our residences, put up our business houses with the clear understanding and belief that this government town of Fort Macleod would be permanent and abiding.

Two years ago the rumor circulated to the effect that a railroad would be built south from Calgary to Fort Macleod, we all firmly believing that railroad would come into town. Such, however, has not been the case as the C. & E. railroad company have laid out their own townsite at the point already designated and these few speculators have led the public to understand, that we the present business men and others residing at Fort Macleod were willing and anxious to move over. We wish it to be generally understood that such is not our intention, we do not intend to abandon our houses, which cannot possibly be moved; or give up our lots purchased from the government with the understanding that their townsite would endure.

We also fail to see how the location of the new site is preferable to the present established government one. No doubt this site is stony, but the new town has an alkali swamp in its centre. The C. & E. company offer their lots at a high figure; no inducements being given whatever to us to move. meetings have been held without much interest having been taken in them. Representations have been made to Ottawa without result. We therefore publish our intention of remaining in the present town of Macleod so that intending speculators and settlers on the new site may not believe the unfounded rumors circulated by the promoters of the said new town of Fort Macleod, to the effect that those in this present town are desirous to move.

We therefore ask you as a matter of our public interest to publish this statement in your paper, at the same time thanking you for your kindness in so doing, and giving as our excuse the fact that nothing but publicity can be of any avail in this case, our protests heretofore having been disregarded.

MORE DELEGATES FOR EDMONTON.

Winnipeg Tribune, August 3rd.

Forty influential delegates arrived yesterday at one o'clock from all parts of the State of Vermont, under the guidance of Mr. D. J. Waggoner, the energetic colonization agent, who has resided in the distant state since May last, arranging for the present excursion and telling the people what great advantages this Northwest country presents to the farmer. The party left Richford, Vermont, at five o'clock on Saturday afternoon last, proceeded to Montreal and came on through without interruption in a special colonist car. They enjoyed the trip beyond their expectations. Among the party is Rev. Mr. Wallace, pastor of a Methodist church in Vermont, and Dr. Flagg, of Jeffersonville; the balance are influential farmers and lumbermen. Mr. Waggoner says the intention is to visit Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta before returning east in the course of a month. In this connection it may be said that the railways have done everything possible for the convenience of the delegates; the visitors are beyond to see and inspect the country thoroughly; they will visit Prince Albert and Edmonton. On their return to Vermont, they will report what they have seen, and if their comment is favorable it is very probable that a large tide of immigration will be turned this way. Mr. Waggoner thinks highly of the Vermont people; they are intelligent and energetic, just the kind of people for the great west. There are some 350,000 people in the state and there is plenty of room here for at least 100,000.

On Sunday, while en route west, Rev. Mr. Wallace held divine service on the special car. By way of acknowledgement for his services Mr. Waggoner, in less than five minutes collected a purse of $30, which he presented to Mr. Wallace, making at the same time a few appropriate remarks.

The party proceeded to Brandon to-day.

A large meeting of mechanics was held in St. John's, Newfoundland, on July 29th. Nearly all lost their tools and are therefore unable to take work, which is offering in abundance. They asked the relief committee to supply them with the necessary implements, thus being enabled to resume their trades. They will no doubt get leave to draw from the relief funds. Some wretch went last night to a field where there were two horses belonging to O'Brien, in whose stable the great fire started, and cut the animals' tongues out. This cruel deed is supposed to have been prompted by a spirit of revenge on the part of losers in the conflagration. The utmost indignation prevails and a liberal reward has been offered for the scoundrel's arrest.

Macleod Gazette: The contractors of the C. & E. railway started laying their rails this side of the Leavings on Monday, August 1st. As they reckon to lay about seven miles per week, we may be pretty sure of soon seeing the smoke of the locomotive.

It is stated that the engagement of the Duke of York, son of the Prince of Wales, and heir presumptive to the British throne, and Princess Mary, daughter of the Duke of Teck, will be officially announced soon.

Practice is required by both teams in the worst way. Calgary gave very little notice to our clubs, but for all that if every member of the clubs, and all interested in them, would turn out in the evenings and take a hand in the games, it would help very greatly to put the teams in a position to match Calgary. Practice will also be on Saturday afternoon. The teams will be published in the BULLETIN when known.
